

OUR TOWN

James E. Ferguson will speak in Rockdale on Tuesday, June 22. This will be the only address to be delivered by the former governor in behalf of the candidacy of his wife for governor in Milam, Lee, Burleson and Williamson counties. Committees from Cameron and Rockdale making arrangements for the gathering, plan to entertain 20,000 or more people. The address will be delivered in the Fair Park where 40 acres of ground is provided for parking automobiles. Local Ferguson supporters believe the meeting will be a duplication of the Sulphur Springs ovation when the governor opened the campaign. Hon. H. C. Meyer, mayor of Rockdale and staunch Ferguson supporter will preside at the meeting. The former governor will be introduced by R. R. Tyson, dirt farmer.

Probably no man in Texas history has ever appealed to the masses as has James E. Ferguson. Wherever he goes throngs follow him. They go to hear him speak. He never fails to say something. There is always a feeling of positiveness about his meetings. At the meeting in Rockdale on Tuesday many thousands Ferguson supporters will hear Jim. The committee in charge has invited Moody and Davidson supporters to attend. After the Ferguson folks get there little room will be left in the 40 acres but there will be enough space at that for the others and they are welcome.

Campaign gets more interesting each day, although there has been some surprising alignments in this election fight. Tom Love spoke at Lorena Thursday night for Dan Moody. Mr. Love says he will not support Mrs. Ferguson if she is nominated by the party. Nobody is surprised at this statement but one cannot help feeling that there should be no such fusion as Dan Moody and Tom Love.

Got criticised somewhat last week for making a few political observations. This is the most widely read editorial column in Central Texas. Hundreds of people do not agree with the opinions expressed herein but they read it. Thousands approve it and read it. Moody supporters accused us of resorting to propaganda while the Davidson people thought we were uttering a great truth when we said their candidate is gaining. The man who cannot see that Lynch Davidson is putting Moody out of the race for governor is either a poor judge of politics or his sense of loyalty forces him to do a gracious thing. But even though we are wrong in this prediction at the July 24 election, we have but expressed an honest opinion and that's why they read this column.

Prosperity is ahead. Good crops all around us. June Harvest has come and the sickle thrust in finds abundance in yield. Cameron was interrupted in an extraordinary stride of progress by the drouth of 1925. She will resume her growth with the return of normal conditions. Cameron needs better co-operation and more work for her advancement. Small industries could thrive here. We need a cotton mill and we need more poultry and diversification crops. We need better farm methods. More than 200 farmers have entered the "More cotton on fewer acres" contest. Here's a real joy for somebody. The commercial club sponsored the plan. Now it will take many men and much time to measure, supervise and weigh this cotton. Let's go through with it. We cannot break faith with the farmers.

TO STOP SOLICITORS

Resolved by the Cameron Commercial Club in regular meeting assembled: That a committee composed of Henry Hefley, Jim Coleman and Giles L. Avriett be appointed, whose duty it will be to investigate and approve before any petition asking for aid or donations, or advertising schemes, or sale of stock, is submitted to the merchants and citizens of Cameron.

Such petitions, advertising schemes, sale of stock are to be presented to said committee and if they approve same as being meritorious, it will still be discretionary as to whether the merchants or citizens contribute or subscribe.

Owing to the large number of petitions being circulated asking for aid and donations of a different character, the Commercial Club deems it imperative that some action be taken which will have a tendency to check a growing evil and eliminate the useless demands on the public generally.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN ENTERTAIN EMPLOYERS

Baptist Revival Meeting Drawing Thousands

HOME DEMONSTRATION RALLY SATURDAY JUNE 12

EFFICIENCY STRESSED IN PROGRAM BY WOMEN

ANNUAL BANQUET ATTENDED
BY BOSS AND EMPLOYEES
FEATURED BY UNIQUE PROGRAM

In social contact as well as in the business world employer and employee meet on common ground.

Their interests and the success of business is dependent upon their understanding each other may be attributed the ground work of all achievement.

That was the burden of sentiment contained in an exceptional program rendered on Tuesday night at the first annual banquet of the Business and Professional Women for their employers.

This entertainment has no parallel in the history of Cameron in many ways. It is the first of what will be annual events for the club in entertaining the Boss.

The banquet program started at 8 o'clock when Miss Mary Lake Henderson, toastmistress gave instructions from the steps of the church basement organizing a grand march into the building led by Miss Jane Canton and L. T. Lewis. The several hundred who attended the banquet marched in singing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," with Mrs. Joe Casey playing the piano.

The Waco Business Girls furnished entertainment during the dinner hour, singing and calling upon many individuals in the audience to stand up. Some merriment was seen in the jokes played as the banquet went on.

Speakers for the program did not get to their places on the program (continued on page eight)

FAMOUS RODEO OUTFIT COMING JULY 2 AND 3

LEGION OBTAINS GOOD PERFORMERS FOR CELEBRATION
ON JULY 2 AND 3

H. M. Akers in charge of the Rodeo show for the American Legion celebration here on July 2 and 3 has secured the famous George Koy Rodeo train from Sealy, Texas.

Mr. Koy recently exhibited his rodeo stock and performers at Brenham. Mr. Akers went to Brenham to confer with Mr. Koy and on Thursday morning Mr. Koy was in Cameron to close the contract to bring his stock here on July 2 and 3.

The stock consists of wildsteers, horses and the famous Red Tate bull, said to be the greatest outlaw ever brought inside a rodeo amphitheatre.

Extensive preparations are under way for this big entertainment here on July 2 and 3. This will be among the big features of the Legion program here on those two days.

Revival Meeting

We are now in the fourth day of our revival meeting, and the prospects were never better. The first day there was a well filled auditorium, and the first night service many were not able to get seats inside the building. The windows were up and the lights on the lawn were on, and many sat on the lawn and heard the services. The attendance in the day services is better than I have seen in any meeting since I have been in Cameron.

Up to date we have had six additions to the church. There is a splendid spirit of prayer on the people. Many have special objects of prayer, there have been sixty two names handed to the pastor for prayer, some of these names have been handed in a great number of times. We only need to put feet to our prayers, and answer back to the Lord, "Here am I, send me."

"Call upon me and I will show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not." Jer. 33:3. "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." James 5:16.

E. S. HUTCHERSON, Pastor.

TABLET PLACED IN WALLS OF NEW MILL

R. L. BATTE IS HONORED BY FRIENDS IN CEREMONY
HELD AT OIL MILL

In a tribute to R. L. Batte on the 20th anniversary of his operation of the oil mill friends gathered Monday at the mill for a ceremony which came as a pleasant surprise to Mr. Batte. The new mill said to cost $150,000 is now under construction and a tablet of stone is being placed in the walls to commemorate the work of Mr. Batte.

T. S. Henderson was Master of ceremonies Monday afternoon at the placing of a tablet at the new oil mill building on the date that marked the twentieth anniversary of the date R. L. Batte of Cameron entered the cotton oil industry in the old oil mill building which was destroyed by fire last year.

Mr. Henderson delivered an address congratulating Mr. Batte upon his career of success with the Cameron cotton oil mill. Mr. Henderson was followed by some other of Mr. Batte's old friends, who had gathered on this occasion to rejoice with Mr. Batte.

Messrs. Oxshier Smith, C. W. Lawrence, S. P. Cross, Dr. W. R. Newton, John T. Gambill, E. Vogelsang, John B. McLane, Judge Ed. F. English, J. M. Ralston and J. C. Martin each had something of interest to say complimentary to Mr. Batte's life in Cameron and his influence with the citizenship of Cameron and Milam County.

Mr. Batte responded in a modest way and expressed his heartfelt appreciation of this mark of confidence of his old time friends and neighbors. Mrs. R. L. Batte made an appropriate talk which entirely fitted to the occasion.

These ceremonies were a surprise to Mr. Batte and the tablet had been secured by and the program arranged by Mrs. Mamie Arnold Hefley.

The granite tablet bears this inscription:

"Presented to R. L. Batte, Builder. By his friends, this 6th day of June, 1926. Faithful to friends, and to loyal friends, loyal."

COMMITTEE NAMED TO CENSURE ADVERTISING

CLUB WOULD RESTRICT PRACTICE OF FREQUENT COLLECTIONS AND AD SCHEMES

A committee to censure subscription lists and to pass upon all advertising schemes promoted in Cameron, was named at the meeting of the Commercial Club on Monday night.

This committee is as follows: Giles L. Avriett, H. M. Hefley, J. W. Coleman.

The appointment of this committee is the result of complaints registered by merchants and business men who have been called upon at frequent intervals to make donations and to co-operate in advertising schemes for public benefits of all kinds.

In the future it will be the policy of the merchants in so far as they desire to co-operate with the club to subscribe only to those propositions that have the endorsement of this committee which will be given in writing. In the event no endorsement is given those who wish to solicit from the merchants may proceed if they desire as the committee could not operate to prohibit them from soliciting but a general understanding has been reached that no co-operative advertising or subscription lists of any nature will be responded to in the absence of the committee's recommendation.

The committee is not to function as a means of operating against individual advertising placed by merchants but its duties are to carry it along the line of resisting as far as possible all schemes in advertising and all subscription lists not considered meritorious. Without the endorsement of this committee solicitors will have a hard time putting over their scheme.

The Retail Merchants Association has had such a committee for a long time but it has failed to keep up this work of censorship.

The appointment of this committee is regarded as important and if it operates strictly enough it will do much good to protect the merchants from promiscuous donating demands. If it

CITY WILL CONDUCT A HEALTH CAMPAIGN

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH TO ASSIST IN WORK WITH PORTION OF EXPENSE

The city council will inaugurate a health campaign beginning at once to improve the public health and in this work will have the active support of the state board of health.

Dr. Little of the board was here Tuesday. Dr. Sappington, state health officer, has written members of the council about this work and the state proposed to pay a large share of the expense.

The work is to continue for four months. It will cost the city about $400.

Dr. Leland Denson is to be in charge of this work. He has been especially trained by the state board for this work.

The state board of health has inaugurated this active service of training men and giving their services to the cities and towns of Texas.

At a meeting of the council Wednesday night the council voted to start this work, having received a recommendation from the committee on sanitation.

Dr. A. S. Epperson, city health officer and Dr. W. R. Newton, president of the Milam County Medical Society, appeared before the committee to urge the necessity for the work.

Dr. Denson will supervise the work in the field. He will inspect the water supply, disposal plant, general conditions, dairies, markets, food handling and everything of that nature.

does not restrict all schemes alike, its work will be of little use or benefit.

The committee work is not only directed to outside solicitors who take an annually large toll from the merchants but all local solicitors, including the newspapers with their feature pages such as Chautauques and the like. If in the opinion of the committee such co-operative advertising plans are not meritorious the committee will withhold its recommendation. In this event the solicitor may take his chances if he desires.

Editors Note—It has been the policy of The Herald to withhold support from any kind of advertising scheme promoted by professional solicitors and in times past it has turned them down, refusing letters of recommendation, despite the fact that it would have brought financial gains to this office. Aside from feature pages advertising purely local benefits this paper has kept free from any propositions that would involve the merchants in unwarranted sacrifices of money. This paper endorses the action of the club and will co-operate in every way with the committee and is willing to submit for criticism any co-operative advertising plan it promotes. This paper does not, however, feel at liberty to yield any of its rights to publish whatever it feels disposed to sell, and if it feels sure the committee nor the club has no such intention.

CEREMONY DEDICATES NEW BRIDGE HERE

W. G. GILLIS DELIVERS ADDRESS
AND HIGHWAY OFFICIALS ATTEND

Ceremonies formally dedicating the new bridge across Little River were held on Friday afternoon, May 28 with Judge Jeff T. Kemp as presiding officer and W. G. Gillis delivering the principal address.

The speaking was held in the shade of the big trestle and a good crowd heard the program.

County Judge Kemp as presiding officer introduced Judge W. G. Gillis who discussed the new bridge, giving a history of the old bridge and praised the administration of the county for its progressive work and thanked the state on behalf of the people for the interest displayed.

Commissioners Luther McDonald, H. A. Fuchs, N. H. Butts and R. D. Hairston; Mr. McFarlane, Homer Gambill and Tom Neely of the state highway department were present.

A. F. Mitchell, county engineer, W. B. Thomas, contractor; Giles L. Avriett, county auditor and other officials were present.

REPUBLICANS HERE TO HOLD A PRIMARY

STATE TICKET WILL RECEIVE
SUPPORT OF G. O. P. IN MILAM COUNTY

Milam County Republicans held a meeting in Cameron Monday to make arrangements for the republican primary election to be held on July 24.

The local republican organization led by H. C. Henderson of Burlington and Sam Mewhinney of Buckholts, will hold an election in this county with voting at some eight or ten boxes. The committee has placed orders for the ballots and the election supplies.

There will be no candidates for county offices, the local organization being interested only in the success of the state ticket.

The committee does not expect a large vote in this county. Aside from democrats who have quit the party, the vote will be restricted to regular republicans.

The republican primary will be held on July 24, the same date as the democratic election. Although some dissension is felt in party ranks in the state, it is said here that the local republicans are backing the ticket selected by the committee.

The ladies of the Gause Baptist church gave a supper on Saturday night. Those who attended from Cameron were Judge Jeff T. Kemp, Leila M. Woolley, Kathryn Robbins, Lillian Atkinson, H. B. McClellan from Milam, candidate for tax assessor was present.

WINNERS TO GET FREE TRIPS TO A. & M. COLLEGE; SPEAKERS FOR DAY INCLUDE COLLEGE TEACHERS

Home Demonstration RALLY DAY will be held in Cameron, Texas, June 12th.

Everyone is invited to attend. Opening exercises will be at 9 a. m. There will be speakers from town and from A. & M. College.

The Girls' and Boys' contests will be held and winners given trips to A. & M. Short Course to be held the first week in August. I enclose rules for the Women's and Girls' Biscuit Contest, Girls' Clothing Contest and the Boys' and Girls' Poultry contest.

Very truly yours,

ETTA W. RINGGOLD,

County Home Demonstration Agent. The program for the biscuit contest and other features was published in the last issue of The Herald.

This is expected to be the most interesting demonstration held in Cameron since the beginning of the work in Milam County.

SPECIAL SESSION WILL NOT BE CALLED UNTIL FALL IS ANSWER OF GOV. FERGUSON

Austin, Texas, June 2.—The Texas legislature will not be convened in special session until September or October, is the decision announced by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in her reply to J. A. Kemp, chairman of the statewide committee which presented to her a draft of a bill for the validation of road bonds believed to be affected by the United States Supreme court decision in the Archer county bond case. The governor's decision was mailed to chairman Kemp at Wichita Falls, Monday and in it she says:

"This will formally acknowledge receipt of the communication of May 17 presented by you and other prominent citizens composing the committee having in hand the matter of calling the legislature in special session for the purpose of passing legislation that will relieve road district bonds of the effect of a decision recently rendered by the supreme court of the United States in what is known as the Archer county case.

"There is also attached to your said communication a copy of a bill prepared by prominent eastern bond attorneys who are of the opinion that said bill will meet the situation and validate the road district bonds heretofore issued in different parts of the state.

"I have sought the advice of able attorneys upon the bills presented and I have been advised that it is not quite clear that these bills will meet the objections raised by the supreme court of the United States in the Archer county case. I am having the matter further considered with a view to doing everything that can be done to remove any embarrassment that may arise as an incident of this decision of the court.

"However, I believe you will quite agree after having received all the facts that it would be impracticable at this time to convene the legislature in special session for the reason that the summer time primary elections are soon at hand and it would require more than 30 days and probably 60 days to pass the special acts presented by you under even a suspension of the rules. If there should be any extended discussion of the bills, as in all probability there would be, the legislature would be in session until long after the election if the bills presented by you were passed. I believe you will agree with me that the importance of this legislation makes it imperative that it be considered at a time when the political atmosphere is not surcharged with partisan discussion.

"Therefore, I have decided that it will not be best to convene the legislature in special session at this time, but I will defer the matter until some time in September or the first part of October, and in the mean time I will have such investigation made as to the sufficiency of the bills presented by you and if there seem to be no intervening legal objections I shall be glad to call the legislature in special session to consider this matter and some other special matters, including the apportionment for the common schools.

"I want to thank you and the members of the committee who have had this matter in hand for your patriotic interest in this important matter, and I assure you that it will be my purpose to maintain the financial honor of the state in all things."

GEO. B. TERRELL IS GUEST FRIENDS HERE

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION VISITS WITH SUPPORTERS

George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, was a guest of friends in Cameron last week, and received encouragement in his race for re-election to that office.

Mr. Terrell always carries Milam County. He has served the people well and deserves re-election to that office.

While here Mr. Terrell gave out the following statement:

"I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Agriculture subject to the primary election to be held July 24th, 1926. I am profoundly grateful for the honor conferred upon me in the past, and if re-elected I shall continue to give honest, efficient, and economical public service. I am a practical farmer thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office.

"I believe in uniting the agricultural administrative work with the Department of Agriculture where it naturally and logically belongs and abolishing the useless appointive boards and commissions now doing certain phases of agricultural work. The last Legislature consolidated the Markets and Warehouse Department with the Department of Agriculture, and this consolidation cut out 18 employees, and the work of the two departments under my supervision is being conducted efficiently for $63,350 a year less than the appropriation made for the two departments before the consolidation. This shows the value of uniting agricultural work.

"The work of the Department of Agriculture has been conducted under my administration at an annual cost of $62,749.38 less than it cost the year before I became commissioner. This is a reduction of 43 per cent and the amount saved to the taxpayers would pay my salary for more than a hundred years. The receipts of the office have been largely increased while the expenditures have been largely reduced. I would like for the voters to compare this record with that of all other public officials in the State.

HON. LYNCH DAVIDSON TO SPEAK HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Just as we go to press—a phone message brings the word that Hon. Lynch Davidson will speak here next Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

The particular place will be stated in circulars, we are informed.

Mr. Davidson is a clean and honorable gentleman and we hope our people will turn out and give him a courteous hearing such as is due a worthy and distinguished citizen coming to our city as a candidate for the important office of Governor.—Hearne Democrat.

NOTICE

The City Council and Dr. A. S. Epperson, City Health Officer, in their efforts to promote better sanitation have asked the city marshal to look after matters pertaining to the public health and among the causes of disease are the open toilets.

The marshal has secured the services of Frank Castillo to clean these places once each month and for this service a very nominal fee is charged.

In some cases property owners have not co-operated as fully as possible and it is deemed necessary that notice be given that these sanitary regulations will be carried out and the city will appreciate co-operation. Anyone desiring information or finding it necessary to have their premises cleaned twice each month will be accommodated by communicating with me or Frank Castillo. Burying refuse and night soil on the premises is prohibited. It will be necessary to give full co-operation to the city and the city health physician, Dr. A. S. Epperson. The man in charge of this cleaning work has the full approval of myself and the council and he should receive your co-operation.

Very respectfully,
B. SLOCOMB,
City Marshal.

DISCUSS TAXES

On Wednesday night the city council began a series of meetings to go over the tax rolls of the city as completed by the assessor and will make recommendations to the board of equalization.

Mayor Davis expects to name a board of equalizers at the next meeting which will be on Tuesday, June 15. It is said that the city will ask for adjustments in the taxable renditions of property in Cameron, raising some and lowering other properties.

BUSINESS WOMEN ENTERTAIN

Marked by features of good fellowship and cordiality was the banquet of Business and Professional Women of Cameron for their employers, June 8, 1926.

Plates were served and each guest was made to feel the honor conferred by his invitation to be present. The banquet tables were spread in the basement assembly hall of the Methodist church. The ladies of circle two faultlessly served the following menu:

Sweet peach pickles Stuffed eggs
One half Maryland chicken
Spring Salad

Hot Rolls Iced Tea
Brick Ice Cream Layer Cake

Spring flowers in crystal baskets adorned each table and programs for the occasion were found at each place. Upon arrival the guests were received in the Junior room and marched into the banquet in formation singing "Hail, The Gang's All Here." The spirit of the evening was expressed in the clever toasts with Miss Mary Lake Henderson as toastmistress:

The 100% Efficiency Girl
15 per cent—Appropriateness of Dress, Mr. Graham Gillis.

20 per cent—Personal Neatness, Miss Alice McGehee.

15 per cent—Interest In the Job, Mr. O. L. Kidd.

10 per cent—Promptness, Miss Rose Rischar.

20 per cent—Desire To Learn, Mrs. Kathryn K. Robbins.

10 per cent—Accuracy, Mr. Fred B. Cable.

10 per cent—Loyalty to Employer, Mrs. A. J. Lewis.

After these talks on subjects which make the 100 per cent efficiency woman, Mr. Oxsheer Smith, president of the Citizens National Bank, paid a beautiful tribute to the "Business Woman."

The concluding number on the program was a playlet, "The Office Dream" by the Alpha Delta Club of Waco.

The south end of the hall was fitted up as a modern business office with desks, typewriter, filing cabinets, chairs, with the office clock in evidence and the excellence of the play as presented by the visiting members of the Alpha Delta Club of Waco has been the subject of much complimentary mention. Each part was well taken. The presentation playlet by the Alpha Delta Club was appreciated very highly by the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Cameron.

The musical members of the Cameron Club (assisted by the affable Jeff Hefley) furnished gleeful melodies which delighted all. Guests were surprised by the musical directions which they perform must follow and surprises followed each other rapidly in this part of the clever program.

HENDERSON-SMITH

With Dr. Charles W. Kerr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, reading the ceremony, the wedding of Miss Anabel Smith, daughter of Mrs. J. S. Fulton Hendren was simply celebrated Smith of Waco, Texas and Mr. Arthur Saturday afternoon at 4:30 in the church auditorium. A small company of about twenty guests, who were limited to relatives and close friends of the bride and bridegroom were in attendance at the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Gene Gatchell as matron of honor and Miss Maurene House of Cameron, Texas, as maid of honor. Mr. Hendren's best man was Mr. B. E. Grotkop. The wedding gown of the bride was fashioned of shell pink georgette and lace and a corsage bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Gatchell was gowned in an afternoon frock of orchid chiffon over pink georgette with which she wore a small hat of orchid georgette. Her bouquet was of lavender and pink larkspur and daisies. Miss House wore a modish gown of green georgette crepe and a flower trimmed leghorn hat. A bouquet of pink rosebuds completed her toilette.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendren left on a late afternoon train for the east to spend their honeymoon. They will attend the Sequentennial Exposition in Philadelphia and will also visit New York City, Washington, Pittsburg and Columbus, Ohio. They will return after July 1 and will be at home at 1409 South Denver Ave.

For traveling Mrs. Hendren was attired in a costume suit of blue crepe romaine with beige trimming, and she wore a small hat in the shade of beige.

Miss Smith has been a teacher in the Tulsa Public schools, and is a graduate of Baylor University of Waco, Texas, and also attended the University of California. Mr. Hendren who has been a resident of Tulsa for more than twenty years, is one of the city's pioneer bankers.—Tulsa World.

POSEY-O'NEAL

Friday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Hutcherson, Mr. Albert Sidney Posey and Miss Ola Mae O'Neal were quietly married with Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Cameron officiating. The bride was becomingly dressed in a white georgette with harmonizing accessories. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al O'Neal and had recently completed her D. E. course in Yoe High school in the tenth grade. She is much admired by a wide circle of friends for her womanly graces, genial disposition and lovable qualities. The groom is a brother of Mrs. F. R. Dunlap and came to Cameron a few months ago. He has recently been employed by the Texas Public Utilities and his friends are numbered by his acquaintance.

The wedding ceremony was witnessed by the pastor's family, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Dunlap, Roy Dunlap, Coy Arledge, Elbert O'Neal and Miss Katharine Ledbetter.

Mr. and Mrs. Posey left Saturday for a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Posey of Teague and to visit the bride's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawbaker in Waxahatchie. At the conclusion of this visit they will begin housekeeping in Cameron.

The Herald extends congratulations.

McKINNEY-McKINNEY

A wedding of wide interest to friends in Cameron and elsewhere was that of J. B. McKinney of Waco and Miss Nettie McKinney who were married Monday morning, June 7, 1926 at seventh and James Street Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Melton.

The bride wore a navy blue crepe Elizabeth going away gown with beige accessories. After a motor trip to Dallas they will be at home to their friends at 1409 Eleventh Street, Waco, where the groom has made ready a handsome home for his bride.

Mrs. J. W. Coleman of Cameron a sister of the bride, was one of the guests at the quiet wedding ceremony.

SUNRISE BREAKFAST

Tuesday morning the Cameron Camp Crowd at six o'clock motored out to the Cecil Cone Camp site at the New Bridge on Little River for a sunrise breakfast in honor of a bride-to-be, Miss Ruth Wiley and of a popular teacher, Miss Minnie Wolf. The breakfast was prepared by the camp members on the Dutch ovens and enjoyed at the tables of the camp amid ideal surroundings. A stroll over the camp grounds followed and a good time was enjoyed by those present. The personnel included the honorees, Misses Ruth Wiley and Minnie Wolf and the following genial members of the Cameron Camp Crowd: Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Denson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bradbury, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin York, Mrs. Wilson Gunn, Mrs. Clifton Jenness, Mrs. Tom Law of Houston, Misses Katharyn, Helen, and Harriet Flinn, Alice and Polly McGehee, Nell Kennon, Dorothy Denson, Clara Thomas, Agnes, Mary Lake and Winnie Henderson.

MR. & MRS. BRIDGE CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Roberts entertained the Mr. and Mrs. Bridge Club Tuesday evening honoring Mrs. Robert's sister, Mrs. C. E. Doss of Dallas. Four tables were outfitted for the series of games. P. W. Davis made high score and received a handpainted ash tray. Mrs. Eugene Green received a handpainted chiffon handkerchief. The honor guest was given an incense burner. A salad course with iced fruit punch was served. The guests other than the honoree, Mrs. Doss were: Mr. and Mrs. Thad Epperson, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Green, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Jenness, Mr. and Mrs. George Childress Jr., and Mrs. Durward Kyle of Pine Bluff, Arkansas.

BRIDGE PARTY

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. C. F. Green was hostess to the maids and young matrons for Bridge honoring her guest, Mrs. Durward S. Kyle of Pine Bluff, Arkansas. Floral decorations and game accessories conformed to the chosen color scheme of pink and green. The trophy for high score was awarded Mrs. Clifton Jenness and the consolation favor went to Miss Virginia Vest. An attractive salad and ice course featuring the chosen colors was daintily served.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Wiley announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Mr. Russel Bruce Wine of San Antonio.

The marriage will be solemnized at the First Presbyterian church in Cameron on Wednesday evening at seven thirty, June 23, 1926.

LOYAL WOMAN'S COUNCIL

The Loyal Woman's Council met at the church Monday afternoon for Bible Study led by Mrs. Morgan. The books of Hosea, Joel and Amos were studied. A business session followed the Bible Study.

S. S. TEACHERS MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Sunday school teachers and officers of the Baptist church was held in the Sunday School annex last Friday night at 8 o'clock. After a lunch served by the Intermediate department, Charlie McGehee called the roll, beginning with Primary on through Adult departments.

Mr. Du Bois, superintendent of the Sunday School, made a short talk, followed by Mr. Hutcherson. These talks were in the interest of the approaching meeting, to begin June 6th. The pastor urged faithfulness in prayer and let our slogan be, "Win One For Christ."

In business session Mrs. Beckerman was elected as reporter of these monthly meetings. The teachers of each department held a short business session.

Meeting with us was Mark Short of Fort Worth, who is to conduct the singing for the meeting. Rev. Day of Bryan was to give an address on "Soul Winning" but could not get here on account of the heavy rains.

The next meeting of the officers and teachers will be held next month.

Mrs. F. J. Beckerman, Reporter.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Monday afternoon the Methodist Missionary Society met in the Sunday school room. Mrs. L. Green presided over the business session. Mrs. Jeff Kemp led the quarterly social service program. Mrs. S. W. Cheeves read the scripture lesson, Luke 10: 25-37. Mesdames Bonds, Tate, Triggs, Baskin, Green, Kirk, Porterfield, Rylander, Price, White, Misses Kirk and Moore took part on the program.

Mesdames Lena Baskin and John Kirk were elected delegates to the Teague District Conference. Mesdames Rylander and Tate were chosen as alternates. Mrs. R. H. Johnson presented ice tea spoons to the society and was voted grateful thanks. The society was closed with prayer for the meeting in progress.

COUNTY WORKER'S COUNCIL

Monday the Baptist County Worker's Council met at Milano in all day session. A splendid meeting was reported by those attending from Cameron who were Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, Mark Short of Ft. Worth, Mesdames P. S. Graves, John Dobbins, E. M. Casey, W. A. Beal, John Ryan, William Henderson, Dan Gunn, Misses Arnett Ryan and Cornelia Gunn and Preston Graves Jr.

A bountiful lunch was served by the ladies of the Milano church. Their hospitality overflowed their town some in Milano who could not be present, to friends in Cameron and elsewhere. During the business session of the County W. M. S. Mrs. John Ryan of Cameron was elected recording secretary for the year. The next County Council meeting will be held in September.

Y. W. C. A. REPRESENTATIVE

Miss Mary Virginia Atkinson was chosen to represent the University branch of the Y. W. C. A. at the summer assembly at Monte Ne near Rogers, Arkansas, and she left Wednesday to join Miss Ione Spear, the State Secretary, Misses Mary Walker, Grace Oldfather, Helen Hamilton, Florence Spencer and Ezra May Fudge were chosen with Miss Mary Virginia Atkinson to attend the summer conference to bring back inspiration for the University organization. Miss Mary Virginia Atkinson has been prominent in activities of the Y. W. C. A. in Austin during her stay there and it is a pleasure to her friends that her work merits this recognition.

The woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church, held last Monday's meeting with Mrs. R. J. Long. The business of the afternoon was followed by Bible study, led by Mrs. R. P. Jeter, emphasizing the earnestness and zeal of early Christians.

Discussion of current events in the Christian world, centered particularly around problems in China.

NEW MINISTER

Rev. Harold F. Shimeal is the new minister at the Christian church, having recently moved to Cameron from Oklahoma to become pastor of the local church.

The congregation is pleased with the prospects of his ministry here and the people generally join in a welcome to the pastor.

THE MODERN GRADUATION

One of the most important events of human experience is the graduation from school or college. To the young person just coming out into the world, it is the most significant and meaningful day that has yet come, and hardly anything else is of equal moment up to the time that people get married.

A graduation where one finishes his education, and starts out to earn his own support, is one of the great turning points in a career. The graduate faces this event with a mixture of feelings. One sees that a great change has come. Where before one had been sheltered by the protections which a school or college gives, now the time has come when one must go out and do battle with the world, perhaps meet many distressing and harassing experiences.

To one who is older, it seems a hard thing for a young person to give up the shelter of a home in which he has been brought up, and go out and thus take the hard knocks of the world. But it is the happy gift of youth to look at these days ahead with a confident faith that all will come out well. With the rosy cheer of youth, no possibility of adverse mischance is seen, but there is a buoyant outlook that the path to success will be won.

When one has received a diploma from a good school or college, there is reason for that faith. The same spirit that learned those many lessons, often denying chances to go off and have a good time, or spend hours in slothful ease, will make good in the world outside. Young people who have done well in their studies have a right to expect success in the world, only they must not be disappointed and disheartened by rebuffs that will come.

VEGETARIAN PROPAGANDA

A convention was recently held at London of "vegetarians" from all over the world, that is, people who do not habitually eat flesh food. This doctrine has been preached for many years, and while the number of people who practise it strictly is perhaps not so common, yet there are a large number who depend mostly on a vegetable diet for their feed.

It is claimed the length of the human intestines shows man to be midway between the plant eating and the flesh eating animals, and nearer related to the fruit eating apes. It is argued that people who do not eat meat obtain a more symmetrical physical welfare are found in vegetables, grains, fruits, nuts, etc.

Scientific opinion however does not seem favorable to this doctrine. It is claimed that the structure of man's stomach and intestines, and the variety of intestinal juices, suggest that he is intended to eat both animal and vegetable food, and the possession of biting, tearing and grinding teeth is said to point in that direction.

Scientific experiments are claimed to show that there is no great difference in the assimilation of food between the vegetarians and omnivorous people who eat everything. But probably the majority of physicians would say that people need to eat some meat in order to build up a vigorous physique. Yet there seems a rather common opinion that the average person eats more meat than he needs, and more than he can afford at present prices. Probably the habit of careful chewing and leisurely and regular eating is of more value to the average normal person than any hard and fast rule about such choice foods.

SKIRTS AND BRAINS

Prof. Muzzey of Columbia university, speaking at the graduation of the Sargent school of Physical Education, remarked that he was not alarmed about the alleged degeneracy of the present generation. He was not worried about bobbed hair if the modern girl did not have bobbed brains, and he was not troubled about short skirts, if the young ladies did not have shortened brains.

Manners and customs are bound to change greatly. Some 15 years ago, the director of a charitable entertainment announced to the young women who were taking part in a certain stage performance, that they were to wear skirts 10 inches from the ground. The girls caught their breath at a suggestion so shocking. But see where they are now.

The main question regarding all the social changes that come, is as to whether people are still able to think intelligently, and whether their standards are such as shall produce a wholesome family influence and clean thoughts, and whether the children who are just coming along are going to grow up well disciplined members of society.

One thing seems pretty clear, that the intellectual achievement of young people in the schools is fully up to what it used to be, and without much doubt has gone ahead of it. The new generation of young people are very keen and bright. But there is a tendency, when they get through their education, to become so absorbed in their various diversions, that they do not keep up intellectual progress. The women's clubs and the men's organizations have a job on their hands to make people think.

As to the moral standards of the younger people, opinions differ. We need some better provisions for moral and religious training, to give people the idea that the acquisition of money is not the foremost aim of existence.

CARING FOR THE GRASS

The editor of a college newspaper recently remarked that he felt it necessary to print an appeal several times during the year to the students, that they should keep on the walks built for their use, and not cut across the corners and angles of the grass, so as to wear these out and spoil the neat appearance of the campus.

The same suggestion is needed in any community, to interest the people in keeping up the good appearance of their public spaces and home places. There is plenty of room for people on the walks provided for their use, and when they cut across corners and wear down the edges of their grass plots, their town begins to look like the man with the frayed trousers and ragged coat.

COURTESIES TO STRANGERS

Strangers and visitors get very different treatment when they visit new places on their travels and journeyings. In a great many conservative places, no one takes any interest in them unless they had acquaintances there previously.

But in many hustling towns, there is a tendency to make a special effort to show such visitors around. Business men will often give up their own time just to go around with these people. They do it no doubt with the hope of building up their home town, so it is not purely unselfish generosity. And yet it does give a visitor the idea that such a community is wide awake with courteous people, and he carries away a favorable impression. If some of these people are making investigations relative to the purchase of property or business interests, or change of residence, they are very much attracted to a town where there seems this spirit of giving newcomers and strangers the glad hand.

STOCK LAW ELECTION
TO BE HELD JUNE 19

Up to noon Thursday only one absentee vote had been cast in the stock law election to be held in the Milano district on Saturday, June 19.

Considerable interest attaches to the election. Those opposing the voting of the law point out that the votes in districts where there is a stock law, in the black land and other non-timbered belts should not be used to force the provisions of this law on those who want the free range.

It is expected that a lively interest will be shown in the election. Indications are that the extension will be defeated at the polls as those opposed to the law are well organized.

Mesdames P. W. Davis and Vernon Roberts will entertain with bridge on Thursday afternoon at the Country Club.

CAMERON FIREMEN WIN

Chief Monta Thomas received the following telegram from Joe Richter at Harlingen Thursday afternoon telling of the races for prize money of the fire teams:

"Hillsboro first, San Marcos, second, Cameron third. Next meeting place San Antonio.

Claude Trigs is attending the cotton classing school at A. & M.

Sealy Lampkin is having a new brick store house built at River Beach just across the new bridge on Little River.

Mrs. J. H. Du Bois and Miss Bess Du Bois left Thursday for Lenden, Alabama to visit a sister of Mrs. Du Bois.

Friends in Cameron of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Griffin extend their sympathy in the loss of their household goods, burned on Tuesday when a truck in which they had been loaded caught fire. The loss is said to have been practically total, including the destruction of the truck.

The family was moving from Cameron to Houston.

Miss Kathryn Robbins, honor graduate of Yoe High school this year, left Monday for the Northwest Texas Teachers' College at Canyon, Texas.

S. E. Brogdon and family went to Waco Thursday to be present at the commencement exercises at Baylor University. His sister, Miss Bill Fay Brogdon of Wimsboro, will receive her B. A. degree.

Friends in Cameron of Mr. and Mrs. John Joyner as well as the associates and friends of their son, Ralph Joyner, will be interested to learn Ralph's recovery from a recent severe spell of pneumonia while at Georgia Tech at Atlanta. Ralph came through the illness but his lungs were found to be affected and for several months he has been in higher climate and has recovered. He is in Cameron and spends much of his time on the golf links and in such exercise as will build up his strength. The case of pneumonia is said to have been the most severe on record and recently before the American Medical Society Dr. Stricker commented on this case, saying that it was the most notable on record. Ralph was saved by the expert care of Dr. Stricker by use of serums and his remarkable fighting spirit has restored him to his friends.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On How to Lose Your Inheritance

"It is so hard for me to get along on what John left me," complained Mrs. Norris to Aunt Emmy. "Junior wants to get a job, but I always wanted him to go to college."

"Yes, yes, I know," interrupted Aunt Emmy, "but what about this mining stock?"

"I'm coming to that. You see I thought I could invest some of those bonds John left, they yield such a tiny income, in something that would bring real money. I needed more money, so when the telephone rang that day and a man, he had the nicest voice, said he had been referred to me by a friend and wanted to talk over some gilt-edged investments, I told him to come right up."

"His name was Mr. Stanhope. He was so nice. He told me all about the big money people are making in platinum mines. Platinum jewelry is so fashionable now. He said he could let me have some stock in a wonderful mine, and that the company would buy the stock back if I ever wanted my money."

"Have you a statement signed by one of the officers of the mining company to the effect that the company will repurchase your stock?" asked Aunt Emmy.

"Why no—"

"Well, you will have trouble getting your money back. A company cannot be compelled to buy its own stock back."

"Oh, I don't know. Anyhow, I got out my bonds and showed them to him—"

"What, you keep your bonds in the house instead of at the bank!" exclaimed Aunt Emmy.

"Why, yes, but in a box that locks—" and Mr. Stanhope said that he was surprised that a woman with the good business judgment I had should be getting such a small income as those bonds paid—scarcely anything. He said that I should make my money work harder for me. He knew I must have good business judgment, he said, because I brought my children up so beautifully. He offered to take the bonds and change them for his stock."

"Oh, Lord!" exclaimed Aunt Emmy, "did he give you a receipt?"

"Why, of course, he was the nicest man. But Junior said after he left that he didn't like him. He said he looked slick. Boys are so funny. Well, I got the platinum stock but Mr. Barnes at the bank says it's no good. He must be mistaken. But I want my bonds back so I came to you for help. And you're always so lucky about your investments."

"Not lucky, just sensible," corrected Aunt Emmy. "Why, oh why, don't you consult your banker, who understands finance before you risk your money? This is not your first loss. Remember that piece of land you bought that was under water?"

"That was different," said Mrs. Norris blushing, "and anyway, Mr. Stanhope is honest, I can tell that."

"If he were honest, he would not have promised you the things he promised. Reputable houses don't send out representatives who make promises about repurchase of stock. Why don't you phone your Mr. Stanhope?"

"I did, but he's out of town. I've written, too, but I suppose I shall have to wait until he gets back. It's been several weeks now, so he should be back soon."

Just then the evening paper came Aunt Emmy glanced at it, then read it attentively. Her expression grew serious. She handed the paper to Mrs. Norris. On the front page was an account of a financial scandal. The house that sold Mrs. Norris her mining stock was involved and the man who ran the business had been indicted for fraud.—A. B. Aymes.

Miss Lucile Hardy and Miss Florence Elder were guests in the Jeter home this week.

LADIES! DARKEN
YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Mrs. Judd Davis is convalescing at the Cameron Hospital.

BILIOUS SPELLS

Kentucky Man Finds Relief
From Dizzy Attacks.

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky.

"I would have dizziness and couldn't work."

"I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything."

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work."

Made from pure, medicinal roots and herbs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for such symptoms as the above, when due to a torpid liver.

Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., writes:

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during . . . My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house."

"I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve."

"My sides hurt less and I began to improve in health. . . The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now."

"I have gained 10 pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all."

"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui."

ADVISORY BOARD PLANS SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

THE SALVATION ARMY ANNUAL HOME SERVICE APEAL NEXT WEEK

The Salvation Army is making its Annual Appeal for funds for carrying its work in this county and in the Southwestern Division.

It is generally conceded that the Salvation Army comes nearer meeting every phase of human need than any other organization in the world.

The Army's work is no longer confined to the cities, but through its Advisory Board the poor, the despairing, the betrayed, the outcasts of society are being reached and its purpose is that in the most remote corner of this and every other country in the state those who need help shall be helped, whatever their need.

To mention only one branch of the work, last year 157 unfortunate girls were cared for at the Divisional Maternity Home, ages 13-14-15 years and upward. Seventy-five per cent of these girls came from small towns and villages. Each one of them is somebody's daughter.

The Salvation Army long ago proved itself absolutely honest in its dealings, rendering the maximum of service with the minimum overhead.

The Salvation Army service is for humanity, not race or creed, but need.

A good percentage of the Salvation Army service is shared by small towns and rural communities the records show. The appeal is under the supervision of the County Advisory Board.

New Texas Industry To Use Gypsum

Sweetwater, Texas, June 9—Equipment for a new Texas industry, the manufacture of a fireproof rock lath, now is being installed at the mill of the United States Gypsum Company here. According to present plans the new unit will be in production June 4.

Not only will this new factory give employment to more men, but it will increase the number of miners and the number of workers in the calcining plant where the gypsum is prepared for manufacture into the lath. Additional warehouse facilities also are being added to the property.

Construction is such that the daily capacity of the new unit can be increased as consumption of the product in the Southwestern states demands. The product consists of large panels of processed rock, encased in a heavy fibre binder, which are nailed to the inside framework of a building of any type, to be surfaced with plaster.

This lath, according to officials of the company, adds fireprotection and insulation to a home, because gypsum is incombustible and a low conductor of heat. And these advantages may be had at a slight cost for the new product will sell for only a small percentage more than the cost of ordinary inflammable wood lath.

Before construction of the rock lath unit here was started, the lath was submitted to the U. S. bureau of standards for test as to how well plaster would stick to it, and the government reported that plaster adheres more strongly to this rock lath than to any other type of plaster base.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS BURN

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Griffin and their children Sufarah and Marshal have gone to make Houston their home. Mr. Griffin has been there some time but Mrs. Griffin and the children left Monday afternoon. Monday morning their household goods were loaded on Marshal Brown's new truck for transportation to Houston. Near Cypress it was discovered that the truck and goods were burning. By quick work of Marshall Brown and William Pendleton who was making the trip with him part of the goods were saved and the truck was put out at a nearby filling station. Much regret is expressed over the loss to Mr. and Mrs. Griffin.

Loyalty To Employer Is Cardinal Virtue In Business Life

Loyalty to employer is essential to success and is an indispensable quality of good relationship between employee and business. These and other reasons advanced by Mrs. A. J. Lewis in a paper read before the annual banquet of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday night, have been highly commended by those who heard the talk. The paper is produced in full as follows:

"Loyalty is that quality which prompts a person to be true to the thing he undertakes. It means definite direction, fixity of purpose, and steadfastness. It supplies power and poise and works for happiness and success.

"Loyalty is the greatest lubricant of life. It saves the wear and tear of making daily decisions as to what is best to do. It preserves balance and makes results cumulative.

"All useful service is raised to the plane of art when love-loyalty is fused with the effort.

"The first item in the commonsense creed of the 100% efficiency woman should be loyalty to employer. She should do her work with a whole heart. To flavor work with protest means absolute failure.

"Loyalty to employer is not to slavishly obey this man, nor that, but it is the cheerful mental condition which responds to the necessity of the case, and does the thing.

"No woman can merit the 100 per cent efficiency mark, or has ever succeeded in business who wears the dial off the clock. Such a one may not be disloyal, she may merely be unloyal; but she is always ripe for a lay-off and always imagines some one has it in for her. And she is right, everybody and everything, including Fate and Destiny, has it in for her.

"Loyalty to employer enables the business woman to draw from the faithfulness of her work, from the grand spirit which she brings to it, the high purpose which emanates from her performance, a recompense so munificent that what her employer pays her will seem insignificant beside it. He pays her in dollars. She pays herself in valuable experience, in fine training, in increased efficiency, in splendid discipline, in self expression and in character building.

"One of the world's greatest poets has said, 'If you work for a man, in heaven's name work for him.' 'If he pays you wages that supply you your bread and butter, work for him, speak well of him, think well of him, stand by him, and stand by the institution he represents.' If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage, resign your position, and when you are outside, denounce him to your hearts content." "But so long as you are a part of an institution, do not condemn it; not that you will injure the institution, but when you disparage the concern of which you are a part, you discredit yourself."

"It should be the utmost aim of every business woman to reach the 100 per cent efficiency mark, and loyalty to employer being one of her chief assets in attaining it. I feel no hesitancy in saying that I voice the sentiment of every member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Cameron, when I say that we are 100 per cent for Loyalty to Employer, first, last and always."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens
So Naturally Nobody
Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Local business men will have the highest regard for your financial standing, if you pay them with checks on this Bank. That in itself should be reason enough for you to start a checking account here now.

WILL PROBATED

The will of the late Mrs. Mattie Batte has been admitted to probate by the court, according to Judge Jeff T. Kemp. Roy Baskin, Cameron attorney has been made executor of the will and Dr. James Watson appeared as witness in the probate of the will. The will of Mrs. Batte was published in a recent edition of this paper.

Superintendent Ross of Thorndale was in Cameron Saturday.

This is the Short-Sighted
Man

Who, although he insured his buildings against fire, (everybody knows fire insurance is a good bet if he never has to collect) but would not insure his buildings, machinery and implements against rot, rust, and decay with a coat of paint even after being assured that without painting his buildings, etc. were sure to deteriorate. He is wishing now he had—

This Is the Far
Sighted
Man

Who realized that a little money spent for paint was worth lots of money saved in preventing rust, rot, decay and not only that, it gave his property that "dressed up" look that caused people to say, "There is a 'farsighted man' who not only saves money by painting, but takes a pride in his home." His happy appearance is justified.

We Are Telling
You--

Paint is one form of insurance on which you begin to profit as soon as it is put on. Paint not only preserves the material it is put on, but it improves the looks, increases the value of your property, your self-respect and your,—and—THERE IS NO BETTER PAINT MADE THAN LOWE BROTHERS HIGH STANDARD PAINTS.

For your painting needs you will find a full stock of paints, oils, turpentine, varnish, stain and enamels here and for your further advantage we are making close prices on everything in the paint line. You can afford to borrow the money to do your painting now.

Can you afford to wait?

METHODIST PASTOR AT MAYSFIELD IS BURIED

REV. S. G. PORTER, NATIVE OF ENGLAND, DIES AT MAYSFIELD

Friends throughout the Marlin district of the Methodist church as well as close associates and acquaintances here, are sincerely grieved to learn of the death of S. G. Porter, pastor of the Methodist church at Maysfield. One of the outstanding features of his work was the promotion of community entertainments and creating interest in social activities among the people of the church.

Mr. Porter was a native of England. He has been in America for a number of years. He married Mrs. Porter in Palestine several years ago.

Mr. Porter died following illness caused by influenza which developed pneumonia.

Rev. R. S. Marshall, pastor of the Cameron Methodist church and Judge Jeff T. Kemp went to Marlin Friday morning to attend the funeral of Rev. S. G. Porter pastor of the Maysfield Methodist church, who died in Marlin Thursday, was buried there Friday. Services were held at the First Methodist church with burial in Calvary Cemetery. He was 49 years of age and is survived by his wife and little daughter.

Jesse Tyson, J. C. Freeman, V. L.

White, W. C. Freeman, Joe Foster and A. J. Smith, stewards of the Maysfield Methodist church were the pall bearers.

Rev. S. G. Porter came to the Methodist church from the Episcopal ministry and his first Methodist pastorate was with the Maysfield church. He had made many friends who were made sad by his passing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Janis of Milano were in Cameron Tuesday. With them was Mrs. Chas. Howes who came here to cast an absentee vote in the stock law election there on June 19.

John Worcester has sold his city market to Mr. Dees who has taken charge of the business.

MOODY CONTRADICTS SELF

(From Moody's opening Speech at Taylor)

"The patrol system for the maintenance of roads would insure honest service and make more certain that the state receives a dollar's worth of work for every dollar spent."

(What Moody said at Burnet)

Burnet, Texas, May 31.—The patrol system of maintenance of highways as recently adopted by the State Highway Department is to give work to an army of employees to aid Jas. E. Ferguson, former governor, in the re-election sought by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, Attorney General Dan Moody, candidate for governor, declared here Monday.

Neatness Is Aid To Success; Business Girl Reads Paper

In the business world much depends on personal appearance. Dress plays a big part. In a paper read before the meeting of the Business and Professional Women on Tuesday night when the employers were entertained Miss Alice McGehee set out in rhyme the following estimate of neatness:

Wanted: a young lady for stenographic work,
Wanted: a saleslady and counter clerk,
These ads were read by a score or more,
And each came to apply at the office door,
There came a damsel with a steady tread,
A picture hat upon her head,
A garb so light and thin and airy,
You'd most mistake her for a fairy,
Wearing high-heeled shoes and chif-fon hose,
Again and again she powdered her nose,
As she neared the office of Mr. McCarty,

All whom she met asked, "Where is the party?"
Her business training was the best,
Honesty and truthfulness that could stand any test,
Her ability the employer at once recognized
And her integrity he also surmised
He thought, "She's the girl for the place in quest.
But the pity of all is the way she's dressed.
She can't keep her mind on her business and books,
While she rouge's her face and thinks how she looks,
Next in tripped a maid quite debonaire
But the first thing she saw was her unkempt hair,
Her dress was wrinkled, her appearance was sloven.
The positions she'd held she could count by the dozen.
The boss wanted to give this girl a square deal,
But he noticed her shoes all rundown at the heel.
She promised to do her very best work
The hardest of tasks she'd not shirk,
But her shoes needed shining, her hair needed trimming.
Her dress didn't fit and besides needed cleaning.
Competence and ability were far outweighed
She looked much too untidy to wait on his trade.
At last came one with a lively step,
She was bright, eager and full of pep,
Her clothes were tailored, trim and neat.
Smart looking shoes were on her feet,
Her hat so chic at just the right pose,
To reveal the features of one who knows,
That a business woman to be a success
Must consider neatness in her dress,
As well as her work, which will ever reveal
Character and traits that she cannot conceal
With no better training than the others who came
This girl was the winner in life's little game.
And the others might wonder why she should be
Not knowing that neatness improves competency.

until nearly 10 o'clock, so full was the program and so tempting the impromptu program conducted by Miss Henderson, assisted by the Waco girls. Speaking first on the program W. G. Gillis gave in characteristic manner a talk on "Appropriateness of Dress" bringing the first general ripple of laughter that was to continue through his ten minute talk which was liberally applauded.

Miss Alice McGehee was next on the program with the subject: "Personal Neatness" to which she responded in splendid rhyme. She told the story in verse how two young women applied for situation, the employer making his decision by contrasting one with the other, basing his decision on the quality of appearance.

Each subject was rated on a percentage basis, and the final summary of qualifications in the aggregate showing 100 per cent.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the paper by Miss Alice McGehee, also a paper on "Loyalty" read by Mrs. A. J. Lewis.

"Interest in the Job" was the subject assigned O. L. Kidd who began his story with the incident of two young men who began life as section men on a railroad. One became president of the road the other never progressed. The difference, the speaker said, is in the display of interest in the job. "One of them" he said "worked for the salary the other worked in the interest of the job. Seek ye, first an active, wholesome interest in your job and all these things will be added to you."

"Promptness" was discussed by Miss Rose Rischer in a fine talk, telling of the good quality of promptness. In humor as well as logic she was applauded frequently during her talk.

Mrs. Kathryn Robbins discussing "Desire to Learn" said that desire for knowledge is the embodiment of many phases of success. "There is no such thing as maturity for the man or woman who want to learn" said the speaker. The value of contacts and self study were stressed also as counting much in success.

"In business there is no substitute for accuracy," said F. B. Cable, cashier of the First National Bank, in discussing "Accuracy" the subject assigned to him. Mr. Cable said that in business accuracy is essential, that errors are costly and it is a big aid to success to acquire the faculty for correctness. This principle should be practiced in speech, and in all phases of business conduct.

Mrs. A. J. Lewis was the last speaker, being introduced by Miss Henderson who stressed the great quality. Without loyalty there can be no business confidence. Elsewhere in this issue is the paper read by Mrs. Lewis.

O. M. Smith responding to the speeches, praised the employees for the part they played in the conduct of our business and the success they contribute to our institutions. He emphasized his talk with an incident in the life of the Citizens National Bank when he became ill, the duties fell upon L. T. Lewis. Later Mr. Lewis became ill, and so on until former employees of the bank were called in to take over the burden. Illness among the members of the force continued until only one employee was left at the post of duty and she was a girl. "Our employees are the most valuable asset we have," said Mr. Smith.

The program for the evening was concluded with a playlet: "The Office Dream" presented by Waco Business Girl's Club. This play was presented to emphasize ideal conditions under which employe and employer should work, bringing out all the points of emphasis stressed by speakers on the program.

EX-GOVERNOR

JAMES E. FERGUSON

Will Speak At

ROCKDALE, TEXAS

At 3:00 O'Clock in the Afternoon

TUESDAY JUNE 22

This will be the only speech he will be able to deliver in either Milam, Robertson, Lee, Burleson or Williamson Counties during this campaign. This will be your nearest opportunity.

The speaking will be at Rockdale's Magnificent Fair Grounds, and there will be 40 acres of free parking grounds.

Come and hear this great champion of the rights of The Common People.

He has made the most phenomenal "Come Back" since Bonaparte's return from Elba.

He devised the plan and inaugurated the policy of devoting a million and a half more dollars annually to the uplift and welfare of the Country Schools than any other Governor of Texas ever had.

and has earned the plaudits and gratitude of all friends of education.

With a genius of statecraft, he has twice taken the State Penitentiary System out of the door of bankruptcy and restored it to life and prosperity, with cash balances at its disposal.

He has torn the Ku Klux mask off a large faction of the misguided people of Texas, and led us away from the brink of internecine strife and restored us to a feeling of fellowship and fraternity.

He has destroyed the odious and burdensome bonus system by which some greedy and selfish landlords had found the means to oppress their needy and defenseless tenants.

He will be known to posterity, as the great and lamented Governor Hogg is known—the champion of a grateful and happy people.

He will be introduced by Hon. R. R. Tyson, of Milam County, a real honest-to-God everyday dirt farmer.

Dan Moody people, Lynch Davidson people, and all others are cordially invited.

DATES FOR 43 SPEECHES BY JAMES E. FERGUSON ANNOUNCED

Former Governor James E. Ferguson Tuesday announced from Austin speaking dates in behalf of the candidacy of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson for re-election covering forty-three engagements the closing speech to be made at Austin on the evening of July 23, the night before the first primary. In announcing these dates Former Governor Ferguson issued this statement:

"In giving out these 43 speaking dates over the state which takes me only as far north as Vernon and only as far west as Midland, I realize that there are many points which I regret not to reach and I may receive the criticism of some of my friends.

"However, I want to call attention to the condition that now confronts all the candidates of this campaign. The continued bad weather and the lack of interest has produced a condition in Texas politics unheard of in many years. Here we have in the first of June and there have been scarcely more than one dozen speeches made in the race for governor. There are 53 days from now until the July primary, seven days of which are Sundays, leaving only 46 days for campaigning.

"In this time it will be impossible for any candidate to make more than a portion of the state. I have distributed my speaking dates as much as possible to meet the convenience of our friends who might want to come and hear the issues of the campaign discussed. There is no requirement for the governor to make speeches in this campaign for the reason that no attack has been made upon her administration and none can be made. However, she will, as far as possible and personally thank the people for their continued loyalty and support.

"I am making this campaign largely because they are attacking me and my friends are expecting me to make a defense. I shall endeavor to not disappoint them. I especially request our friends everywhere to come out to my appointments and by their presence show their opposition to the hate campaign now waged in Texas."

"Smiling Through" Is Feature Comedy In Chautauqua Bill

"Smiling Through" is a fantastic comedy in three acts by Allan Langdon Martin. It is one of the most delightful whimsical and out of the ordinary play that has been written and it is a play that has done a phenomenal business in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, having reached the record peak of $25,000 a week in that city.

When originally produced in New York, the great artists, Jane Cowl, was selected to portray the central figure, and she achieved an artistic triumph that will never be forgotten in stage annals. It is said that this was due, in addition to Miss Cowl's artistic skill as an actress, to a large degree to as a classic of the modern stage, gree to the unusual play. It is referred, in the moving picture production, as "the sweetest story ever told."

Starting with a story wistfully sweet and unlike anything else that has ever been written, it winds its way through a sweet, simple narrative filled with intensely human characters set in backgrounds of rare human appeals and happy endings.

The play deals with a young Irish girl who has fallen in love with the son of the man whom her uncle, with whom she lives, hates worse than anyone else in the world. Just as the young man is off for the war, he forbids them ever seeing one another again. Then memory steps in. The uncle lives over again the years of his life during which the father of the boy lived, and, in living them, sees the error of his way, forgives the couple, and, in so doing, finds the happiness he never had been able to find before.

"Smiling Through" will be presented on the night of June 23rd, and is a feature of the 1926 Premier Chautauqua program.

Incidental music furnished by Miss Katherine Costin and her assisting artists will add delight to this already delightful play and exquisite scenery and lighting effects enhance the beauty of the production.

FROM TEACHER TO EXECUTIVE IN TWO YEARS

In 1921 he was a country school teacher, drawing a meager salary six or eight months out of the year, and discouraged with the outlook for the future.

Early in 1923 he was Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Arkansas, with an all-the-year income many times that which he had drawn as a teacher. "I'm just beginning my career," he says.

One decision, right training and a little determination made this wonderful change on the course of his life. His story may prove helpful to hundreds of others.

Raised on a farm, and having attended country schools until he had completed a two-year high school course, Ionzo A. Ross was twenty-one years of age before he struck out for himself as a country school teacher. For five years he followed this profession. Then the future. He had made no progress as a teacher, although he liked the work. Encouraged by his wife, he decided to fit himself for a business position, and enrolled at Tyler Commercial College.

His first position upon graduation paid him a yearly salary more than three times that which he had drawn as a teacher. The following year he was appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue—a position he could never have held but for the thorough T. C. C. training.

The quality of this training is shown in the fact that in October, 1924, in an official examination which was taken by every internal Revenue man in Arkansas and Tennessee, Mr. Ross ranked first with a grade of 95 per cent.

"At any cost get a T. C. C. graduate," is his advice to employers. And to teachers and other ambitious young people: "Get a T. C. C. training" or a good position in business, or you would have already stopped reading this article. But don't stop now. Clip the coupon printed below and mail it for "Achieving Success in Business." In this big, helpful book, scores of young men and young women tell how they have achieved bigger, better places in the world of business just as Mr. Ross has told. And there's not a single story that will not help you decide how you can make a bigger success for yourself. The book is yours for the asking. Just send the coupon printed below.

Bright Wings of Romance

By RALPH D. PAINE

(© 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

TIME had been very cruel to Harriet Brent. To some women the years come like an Indian summer. Harriet Brent lived alone in an old house, which also had come to have an aspect unlovely and forlorn. Four-square to the road it stood, its fields bounded by stone walls heaped together by the tenacious toil of New England pioneers.

A house that still braved the weather staunchly, it had sheltered many children and known many joys and sorrows. This its broad roof conveyed to the passer-by. For one elderly woman to dwell alone in it was like sitting by the dead ashes of a hearthstone.

Harriet Brent was not unhappy. In her heart, which seemed unquenched by warm emotions, there lived unquenched one divine spark of the true romance. Her faded eyes could soften in wistful reverie.

The Harriet Brent of those many, many years gone by had been a sensitive, slender girl of a certain flower-like, fleeting beauty. Delicate, they had called her. A shy girl, moving in misty day-dreams which she had been reluctant to reveal.

Eighteen she was when the lad had come from a larger town for a brief visit with cousins on a nearby farm. So brief—only a week. He had made love to her, with an ardor boyish and turbulent. Unshamed, she had returned his kisses.

Careless, splendid, debonaire, swearing he loved her forever and ever, he had passed on and forgotten her.

Harriet Brent did not forget him. Life is sometimes that way. The spirit of romance had once, only once, brushed her with its bright wings. Time healed the poignant sorrow. It came to be that she was glad to bear the scar. Even in these somber latter years she could sit and thank God that she had known love and kisses and aching rapture.

One day this harsh-featured, unsmiling splinter went out to feed the hens. She had clapped on a battered, hazy-maker's straw hat. A shawl was thrown over her faded shirt-waist. The old skirt had been chopped off to make it easier to do the chores. The rubber boots were handy because there was mud in the hen yard.

The empty pan in her hand, Harriet Brent stood staring at a very large and glittering automobile which had halted in front of the house. The chauffeur was studying a weather-beaten guide-board on a post. A handsome woman, ruddy, dignified, spoke to the gentleman beside her. He left the car and walked to the gate of Harriet Brent's dooryard. She came clumping from the barn path to meet him.

"Is this the road to Warechester, if you please?"

"Yes, take the first road to the right after you climb the hill beyond the watering-trough."

"Thank you, and may my man have a pail of water to fill his radiator? If you will be good enough to show him where the well is—"

"I'll fetch you a pail," grimly spoke Harriet Brent. She lingered a moment to survey this vigorous, genial stranger with the close-cropped, grizzled moustache, the keen eyes, the air of substantial importance. Time had not been cruel to him. Life had been gracious nor had it obliterated that dominating quality which had made him victorious in boyhood.

Yes, Harriet Brent knew him as soon as they stood face to face, but the expression of her worn features was unchanged. She went into the shed and returned with a pail. The man who had come out of the past seemed in no haste to rejoin his wife in the car nor did he hear her when she called to him. He was gazing at the shabby old house and at the apple orchard beyond. His demeanor was curiously abstracted. His eyes were grave but his smile had a boyish sweetness as he said:

"This fine old place has run down. Too bad. I remember it years ago. A family named Brent lived here then. Do you know what became of them?"

"Dead and gone," replied Harriet. "You can see the stones in the little burying ground at the edge of the orchard."

"Yes, it was a long time ago. There was a daughter, a very lovely girl. I met her one summer, when I was a boy. Married, I suppose, and a grand-mother by now?"

"She has gone, too, so I've heard say," steadily answered Harriet in a low voice. Her hand pulled the edges of the shawl together and remained there to rest on her heart. "Yes, the girl you used to know has gone from here."

His wife spoke impatiently. He turned with a start. Presently the car rolled away from the house by the road. He glanced back, more than once. From behind the ancient lilac bush, Harriet Brent watched the car vanish. Then she clasped her hands and murmured, in prayer:

"Oh, thank God he didn't know me. But he remembered—and he loved to remember. He was loving the girl that has gone. I didn't expect anything could ever make me so happy."

She went into the house and kindled a blaze in the huge fireplace of the sitting-room. By its glow she sat with folded hands, while the red coals covered the dead ashes. Her face was no longer harsh and unlovely. The bright wings of romance had brushed it.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET MADE FOR PRIMARY

FIVE CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR
NOR FILE FOR TICKET—
ELECTION JULY 24

Dallas, Tex., June 8.—Applications for places on the ballot of five democratic candidates for governor had been received by the democratic state executive committee, up to midnight last night. Arthur Eidson of Hamilton, chairman of the committee, informed the Associated Press by telegraph today.

The Rev. O. F. Zimmerman's application had not been received at the time Mr. Eidson made his announcement, but Zimmerman stated over the telephone from his home in Naples that he had sent his application by registered mail yesterday.

Last midnight was the final moment for the filing, but registered letter mailed anytime yesterday would comply with the regulations, Mr. Eidson said.

The five candidates whose applications had been received are: Lynch Davidson, Houston; Governor Miriam

A. Ferguson; Dan Moody, Austin; Mrs. Edith Wilkins, Dallas, and Mrs. K. F. Johnson, San Antonio.

Following is a list of candidates for state offices in addition to Governor, filed:

Lieutenant Governor—Barry Miller, Dallas; Edwin R. York, Austin.

Railroad Commissioner—C. V. Terrell, Decatur; Robert E. Speer, Dallas. Land Commissioner—J. T. Robinson Daingerfield; P. B. Terrell, Mt. Pleasant.

Superintendent of Public Institutions—S. M. N. Marrs, Austin; J. A. Humphries, Hockley; W. W. Bennett, Center.

Attorney General—Claude Pollard, Houston; T. K. Irwin, Dallas; John W. Hornsby, Austin; James V. Allred, Wichita Falls; Charles L. Brachfield, Henderson.

State Treasurer—George G. Garrett, Dallas; J. R. Ball, Bonham; W. Gregory Hatcher, Dallas; Grover Cleveland Harris, Dallas; G. E. Johnson, Anson.

Comptroller—S. H. Terrell, West. Commissioner of Agriculture—Geo. B. Terrell.

Court of Criminal Appeals—Lee P. Pierson, Dallas; F. L. Hawkins, Waxahatchie.

Associate Justice supreme court—Judge William Pierson.

MOHLER GRADUATES

AT A. &amp; M. COLLEGE

The following paragraph from the Winchester section of the La Grange Journal will be of interest to the friends of L. J. Mohler, who is now employed by the T. P. U. in Cameron.

In the list of graduates of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas at College Station appears the name of L. J. Mohler. Young Mohler is a former citizen of Winchester, and is well known as the son of Joe Mohler.

On June 1st along with forty others he will have conferred upon him the degree of Bachelor of Science, with electrical engineering as his major study. He has won special distinction while at the college by his work in radio communication; he holds a commercial operator's license and during the summer vacation of 1924 was employed as wireless operator on ships sailing between New Orleans and Central American ports.

In addition to his degree, Mr. Mohler will have the privilege of taking a commission as second lieutenant in the Reserve Officers Corps of the United States Army.

A. & M. College confers two hundred and seventy one degrees this year.

NO-NOX

MOTOR FUEL

STOPS KNOCKS

Turns Mountains into Mole hills

FOR years the carbon knocks, clicks, pings or detonation in automobile engines have been a menace to motor efficiency and a sore spot to the motorist. GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel has turned the old time carbon bugaboo into an asset, in fact it has put carbon to work.

No-Nox and Carbon are Power Twins

Compression is power—Carbon adds compression—No-Nox withstands compression and the combination gives wonderful motor efficiency.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel not only withstands the high compression of the modern automobile engine—but also the added higher compression caused by carbon deposits on the walls and piston head which increases with the age of the car;—clicks and knocks are eliminated—greater efficiency is accomplished—followed by more power and greater mileage.

This Guarantee goes with it

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline—that it contains no dope of any kind—that the color is for identification only—and will not heat in summer driving.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is priced three cents per gallon higher than ordinary gasoline—and is worth it.

SALVAGE ON EFFICIENT BASIS DODGE FACTORY

RECLAMATION SYSTEM BIG FACTOR IN CUTTING OF PRICE

To be able to rescue thousands of tons of iron, steel, lumber, paper and other materials, which commonly is referred to as waste or scrap, and reclaim it financially, is one of the problems of all industrial plants today. Such reclamation work is a factor in keeping down costs of the finished product.

In a large corporation such as Dodge Brothers, Inc., this rescue of waste material is no longer a problem.

Under a highly efficient system every piece of discarded metal, lumber, and paper, that cannot be utilized in some manner in the corporation's plant again, is collected and segregated in bins and ultimately finds its way back to its point of origin to be used again in the manufacture of new material.

In the salvage of lumber alone the process used by Dodge Brothers, Inc., is one of the marvels of industrial life today, millions of board feet of lumber being reclaimed annually, making a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

According to reports of the corporation there was sold from the plant in 1925 waste material totaling $1,500,000. Scrap iron, steel and non-ferrous metals from the bulk of such sales.

An amount nearly equal to this was saved in reclaiming various kinds of material for further use in the plant. Prices of this so called waste material ranged from $6.00 a ton for low grade iron scrap to $1,000 a ton for metal having a tin content.

So highly systematized is the salvage department of Dodge Brothers, Inc., that the great portion of its scrap iron, steel and paper may move direct from the plant to the mills for consumption without further sorting.

The largest item in this salvage operation is the collection of cast iron borings, turnings, flashings, steel sheet clippings and non-ferrous metals.

Borings coming mainly from the cylinder department are carefully swept up from beneath each machine after each shift of workmen, placed in small steel cars and taken to bins for future delivery, or hoisted direct into railroad freight cars for immediate shipment to furnaces.

Great quantities of turnings and drillings, resulting from machining of forgings and making screw machine parts, are transferred direct to huge crushers where they are ground into fine parts and then dumped into freight cars for movement to the consuming mills. Under this method of crushing, freight cars are loaded to forty to fifty tons. Under the old method no such tonnage could be obtained and thus a huge saving in freight charges is made. Dodge Brothers use four of these crushers on turnings.

In handling the non-ferrous scraps, such as brass, copper and babbitt metal, extreme care is used by the sweepers in collecting it from the pans under the machines. This scrap is segregated in steel drums and held until such time as the market conditions warrant its sale at a fair price.

It is in the salvaging of lumber and boxes, particularly, that Dodge Brothers, Inc., have surpassed other plants. In the reclamation of boxes alone a saving which totals several hundreds of thousands of dollars annually is made. All boxes arriving at the plant from suppliers are turned over to a crew of men, who, with the aid of a portable grinder, erase all stenciling and other markings. These boxes then are utilized again in the shipment of service parts and other materials to dealers. An average of 4,000 boxes are reclaimed monthly.

Odds and ends of lumber used in the manufacture of export shipping crates, which formerly found their way into power house furnaces, are today utilized in car shipping, and in making smaller crates.

According to records of the salvage department 3,330,000 board feet of lumber were reclaimed in 1925. In March of this year 343,272 board feet were saved.

The salvage department does not even overlook scrap paper. In 1925 enough of it was collected and baled to fill 41 freight cars.

All of which illustrates how a large manufacturer like Dodge Brothers, Inc., can continue building a better and better car even at the present remarkable low prices.

DODGE BROTHERS MAY SALES SHOW NEW HIGH INCREASE

Retail deliveries of more new motor cars and trucks by Dodge Brothers, Inc., in particular. This showing is even more impressive when consideration is given to the fact that several weeks have elapsed since the usual peak of the retail selling season.

During the four weeks ended May 29 these retail deliveries by Dodge Brothers Dealers amounted to 37,660 a substantial increase over the previous 735 or 51 per cent over the deliveries vious four weeks and a gain of 12, during the four weeks ended May 30, 1925.

Dealers in the United States have alone delivered 144,199 new Dodge Brothers Motor cars and Graham Brothers Trucks from January 2 to May 29, 1926, a gain of 48 per cent over the record of 97,572 for the corresponding period last year.

Retail sales since January 7, when

Dodge Brothers made substantial improvements and reduced their prices have been so high as to prevent the building up of any substantial stocks of new cars. Since late in March retail deliveries week by week have exceeded factory shipments and the factory sales department has been receiving a constant stream of wires from Dodge Brothers Dealers asking for more cars.

To Whom It May Concern

There seems to be some confusion in the minds of our citizens relative to the effect of the County Wide Stock Election to be held in this county on June 19th, and we have received numerous inquiries regarding the matter, and the effect in Districts which are already operating under the Stock Law.

This proposition was recently submitted to the Attorney General's department, and it was held that should the election fail to carry, it will in no wise affect the districts which have already adopted the stock law. The districts which have already adopted the law will continue to operate under the provisions of the same as before, in the event the election should fail to carry on June 19.

Respectfully,

JEFF T. KEMP, County Judge, Milam County.
A. J. Lewis, County Attorney, Milam County.

THE MAN WHO SAVES YOU MONEY

WILL HOGG CHALLENGED BY HOUSTONIAN FOR HIS SLURS UPON FERGUSON SUPPORTERS

Houston, Tex., May 29, 1926.
Mr. Will C. Hogg,
Houston, Texas.

Dear Sir: Your recent utterances given publicity through many of the big daily papers of this state have come to my notice this date. You are quoted as saying, "Every decent thinking man must have an innate abhorrence of the things for which Jim Ferguson stands." Of course you mean women when you say man, for you refer to the voters or the people who think, both male and female, whether voters or not, and especially do you refer to Texans by birth or adoption for it is in Texas that things most vital are at issue. These papers refer to you as the son of former Governor Jim Hogg; this I presume is done for the purpose of giving some weight and dignity to your statement above referred to, however, I venture to say that if your worthy sire were alive and about he would today be found battling for the rights of the people along with the thousands of living voters who voted for him when in our midst, and I am certain he would not be heard giving utterance to such expressions as yours referred to.

Your statement can mean neither, "every decent thinking man or woman, or every thinking decent man or woman," in any event the meaning is the same for if one fails to think decently he certainly isn't decent, and if he isn't decent then he won't think decently. I take it that you meant what you said, therefore, I say to you that a man of your supposed standing, living in an atmosphere of refinement, culture and almost inexhaustible wealth largely inherited from your father's estate ought not to have made such an indecent remark, for when you did so you offended and insulted the memory of your illustrious father, whose eminent service to Texas is the Beacon light to all who have come after him. You also insulted many thousands of living admirers of your illustrious sire, thousands who followed him from his very humble beginning in east Texas, and who fought with him through the Hogg-Clark campaign are today supporting Governor Miriam Ferguson and Jim Ferguson and are doing so honestly and conscientiously, think as decently and acting as decently as you can think or act or any of your humble ancestry. Your father was glad to refer to his humble origin for he knew the truth of the following quotation: "Honor and shame from no condition rise, act well your part, there all the honor lies." It is hoped by the friends of your father that you, too, will in time come to appreciate that simple verse, and when you do, you will cease to use so recklessly the English language in referring to your fellow citizens who differ from you. To be intolerant and puffed up with one's own importance is the nth degree of egotism and results in indecency and immodesty, and the lack of modesty is the lack of sense.

Hundreds of my acquaintances and friends, now old and gray, once fought in the ranks for your father, when he was poor, humble and struggling. My own father, a poor man then, a poor man now, fought in his humble sphere for our Governor Hogg, the governor and politician who when campaigning did not mince words, but called a spade a spade and a hoe a hoe and took little thought of where the chips fell; these same friends, acquaintances and my father and mother are standing, fighting for Governor Ferguson and her husband, Jim; for the governor and her husband stand for practically the same principles and things your dad stood for. I invite you to read the history of your state and acquaint yourself with the things your father stood for, fought for, and in a measure accomplished.

I know you do not spend much of your time in Texas, but while you are basking in your luxurious palace on the Pacific coast this summer, or perchance, while you are in your New England domicile, or better still while you stretch and yawn at Palm Beach as the balmy gulf breeze soothes your conscience and restless spirit, take a look into Sister Pennybacker's Texas History, look your honored dad's picture in the face, commune with him; he will come to you, listen to him; he will whisper softly into your subconscious mind words of wisdom. Rise up, while the spell is on you and return to Texas in haste and gird about you the armor of your worthy sire and do battle as he did in the interest of the masses, the great commonalty of this state against the classes and the privileged few, do this and you will find yourself side by side in the ranks with the majority of your father's living friends and supporters, horned hand farmers, shop workers, laboring people, the great perspiring, throbbing workers who are supporting Governor Ferguson as against Don Juan Moody and his cohorts, Hobby of Blue Ridge fame, Colquitt of chicken salad distinction, and Hiram Evans, the dentist of recent notoriety.

With best wishes for your return to the principles of your fathers, I am yours,

Sincerely,
J. N. SNELL,

211 E. 26th St. Houston, Tex.

Short Course At A. & M. College On August 2 to 17th

College Station, Texas, June 7.—Specialists in various Departments of the A. & M. College of Texas have formulated plans for the 17th annual Farmers' Short Course which will be held at the College under the direction of the Extension service, beginning August 2 and continuing through the 7th. This year's program will be the most extensive and diversified since inauguration of the course, and is expected to be attended by a record number of visitors, estimated at 5,000.

The course is open to all men, women and children who are interested in farm and home problems, and is intended primarily to meet the needs of people who desire to make farm life more profitable and attractive.

The tentative program announced by H. H. Williams, State agent, and chairman of arrangements committee, lists prominent speakers on a variety of subjects, from other states as well as Texas. The teaching staff will be composed of highly capable and experienced instructors. Among the speakers will be president T. O. Walton of the College; Dr. W. M. W. Splawn, president of Texas University; C. A. Cobb, editor of the Southern Ruralist, Atlanta; and Miss Susan Landon, member of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Association.

Morning classes will be devoted to lectures for boys in poultry feeding, halter making, soil improvement and allied subjects; for girls classes in home furnishing, landscape gardening, clothing budget and relative home subjects; for women classes in domestic science; and for men classes in beef cattle raising, dairying, agronomy, horticulture, poultry and cotton classing and other special fields of work. Afternoon periods will consist of conferences for Extension workers, experiment Station workers, country school superintendents, beekeepers' association, agriculture writers and County Fair Secretaries' Association. Double programs will be held at night, with lectures by outstanding men and women in farm work, and various entertainment features, including plays, motion picture shows, reviews and musical concerts.

GUM-DIPPING

the Extra Process for Extra Miles!
Breaks all Tire Records

The 500 Mile Speed Classic at Indianapolis has always been a Battle of Tires. In 1911, Firestone won with fabric tires at 74.59 miles per hour. In 1920, Firestone won with cord tires at 88.55 miles per hour. In 1925, Firestone won with Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons at the record breaking average speed of 101.13 miles per hour.

In 1926, Firestone again won with Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. The ten cars to finish "in the money" were all Firestone-equipped. They went the distance without a single blowout and with but two tire failures—one due to a puncture and the other to a leaky valve.

This performance is even more remarkable when you consider the terrific speeds at which the cars traveled over this fifteen-year-old, rough brick track.

Experienced race drivers will not risk their lives or chances of victory on any other tires. And in the commercial field, large truck, motorbus and taxicab fleet operators, who keep careful cost records are among the big users of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

The City Transportation Co., of Tacoma, Wash., writes "One of our 12 buses on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires has gone over 40,600 miles and still looks good for many miles of extra service. For all around tire safety and mileage, Firestone cannot be beat."

From Calumet Motor Coach Co., Hammond, Ind., the following: "We operate 40 buses all equipped with Gum-Dipped Tires. The very low cost per mile on which these tires operate is considerably less than that of any other make." Hayes Bus Lines, Columbia, S. C., say: "We operate 19 buses equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. A number of these tires have run over 45,000 miles without ever having been removed from the rim."

The largest taxicab companies in the world standardize on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. W. R. Rothwell, taxicab operator, Detroit, Mich., writes: "Two of my Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have run 76,000 miles." Hundreds of thousands of car owners voluntarily testify to the safety, comfort and economy of Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. W. H. Peacock, Birmingham, Ala., testifies: "I have had Firestone Balloons for thirteen months and they have delivered in that time 24,469 miles." H. C. Staehle, Minneapolis, Minn., says: "My Firestone Balloons have gone 49,900 miles and are still in good condition."

These records of endurance, speed, safety and mileage could only have been made because of Firestone development of the Gum-Dipping process which insulates and saturates every fiber of every cord with rubber, reducing friction and heat and building greater strength and endurance in the cords—assuring you at all times—

CAMERON HUNTERS ARE INTERESTED IN CATCH

GIANT LOBO TAKEN AT CISCO BY TRAPPER AFTER WOLF TAXES $30,000 STOCK TOLL

Cameron hunters and dog owners are interested in the remarkable incident of the capture of the giant Lobo wolf at Cisco. This wolf it is thought at one time came into the woodlands of Milam County and was chased off by wolf hunters.

Penn Wolf, district Clerk; Bert Ray, Dr. W. R. Newton and others who own packs of Walker Hounds when shown the story of the capture of this wolf showed keen interest and regret they were not there to see the big beast.

Cisco, June 5.—The notorious "Old Blackie," the big black lobo wolf of the Big Bend country, whose murderous four years career took a toll of two human lives and $30,000 worth of livestock for stockman of West Texas, is in Cisco.

W. I. Evans, veteran trapper, who climaxed his 33 years of trapping by taking the noted wolf and earning the $500 bounty offered for her capture, brought the wolf here at the request of several Cisco persons, as he said "to let Ciscoians see the most famous lobo outside of Cisco."

The Cisco zoo is negotiating with Evans for the purchase of the animal and it is possible that it may be added to the lake zoo, although Evans stated he had received fancy offers for her from the Lincoln Park zoo of Chicago.

The animal is almost coal black, with a white throat, white feet and vicious pale green eyes. She stands nearly three feet high at the shoulder and weighed at the time of capture, 92 pounds.

Evans also has one of the old wolf's whelps, which is a "paint" wolf similar to the regular Texas lobo, and which now weighs 82 pounds. He took the young wolf a few days before trapping the black lobo, and used the whelp to lure the wily "old blackie" into his trap.

Evans tells an interesting story regarding his capture of the marauding wolf. The animal had a range of a 450 mile circle which she covered almost on schedule each 16 days. She had been frequently seen in the act of selaying cattle, and was the target for many riflemen who attempted to slay her, but by almost unbelievable cunning she eluded all efforts to take her.

On one occasion two Mexicans were found slain at the entrance to a wolf den in the mountains of Brewster County. A bloody hatchet with tell tale black hairs clinging to its blade and lobo tracks in the torn up earth, convinced hunters that the she wolf and her mate had surprised the Mexicans while they were in the act of capturing the whelps from the den in an effort to earn the reward of $50 offered for the lobo pups, and had lost their lives in the encounter.

The bodies of the men were torn to pieces by animal fangs.

The male wolf was slain a year ago. He was of enormous size, weighing 132 pounds. A bounty of $500 was offered for the "Black Lobo" and trappers from half a dozen states, and the best wolf hunters of the country camped on her trail for months.

Evans, whose home is in Wichita Falls, had been a government trapper for 20 years. He, too, took the trail after "Old Blackie" and aided by his brother tried every trick of trapping lure, and used every kind of bait and wolf scent known, but failed to take her. On one occasion Evans' own saddle horse was killed by wolves while he was running his trap line.

The run of the wolf was fairly well known, and the unusual size of her foot prints made her trail easy to pick up. She was accompanied by the young wolf and the pair were frequently seen. The black "paint" spots on the brown coat of the young wolf stamped him as her off spring.

Evans studied the tracks of the pair left by them as they eluded the traps and found that they always sidled to the right when they came to a blinded trap. He measured the distance and secured the average. Selecting a section of Brewster County south of Alpine to operate, he then set his trap line in a usual manner, but placed two other blinded traps carefully concealed to the right of the regular trap at a distance equal to that by which he had learned the animals circled traps.

After a number of attempts he was finally rewarded by trapping the young wolf but "Old Blackie" avoided the trap. However, Evans was too wise for her. He managed to take the young wolf alive and remained in the locality for 16 days. Then he placed the young wolf in a sack, and dragged him along the ground in the vicinity of his traps. He rolled the young wolf into the trap before setting the trigger, himself standing on a wolf hide while doing so, in order to prevent his own scent from betraying the trap.

A day later he visited the place and found the famed "Black Lobo caught by the left foot, lured into the trap by the scent of her offspring. Evans and his brother lassoed her with trace chains and succeeded in stretching her out and muzzled her. He collected the $500 bounty for her capture.

TEN WINNERS IN AUTO RACE ON FIRESTONES

Firestone Full-Size Gum Dipped Balloon tires again made a remarkable showing in the Indianapolis Speedway Classic on Decoration Day, when all ten winners participating "in the money" rode on these dependable tires.

This is the second time balloon tires were used in the great Speedway event, the first being last year when Peter DePaolo on Firestone Full-size Gum-Dipped Balloons made a new worlds record at an average speed of 101.13 miles per hour.

Smaller motors of 91 1-2 cubic inch displacement, compared to 122 cubic inches in 1925, combined with rainy weather and a slippery track, slowed up the time of the 1926 winner, Frank Lockhart, who won this years race at 95.88 miles per hour.

This year's gruelling battle of tires was called at the end of 402 1-2 miles because of the downpour of rain. Lockhart, who captured the grand prize, drove the full distance without a single tire change and was all set to go the entire 500 miles on the same set of tires.

I ask for and will appreciate your—

It is a noteworthy fact, too, that the 1926 Indianapolis race was the ninth of the Hoosier Speedway in which Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires carried the winners to victory.

The terrific battle of tires brings out the effectiveness of Gum-Dipping, the exclusive process employed by the Firestone Company, which builds extra strength and endurance into the cord fabric by impregnation and saturating every fiber of every cord with rubber.

This special process minimizes friction and heat, keeping the tires comparatively cool under a continuous racing strain.

The performance of Firestone tires at Indianapolis this year certainly was remarkable when the terrific speed at which the cars traveled over the 15 year old rough brick track is taken into consideration.

Get Back Your Health As Other Cameron Folks Have Done

Too many people suffer lame, aching backs, distressing kidney disorders and rheumatic aches and pains. Often this is due to faulty kidney action and there's danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Don't let weak kidneys wear you out. Use Doan's Pills before it is too late! Doan's are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Here is one of many Cameron cases:

Mrs. J. E. Walker, says: "Whenever my kidneys got out of order, backache always followed. When I stooped, darting pains went through the small of my back. A deep-seated lameness and

CAMERON PEOPLE INTERESTED IN DEVELOPMENT LOCAL ENTERPRISE

W. Taegal spent Tuesday in Cameron in the interest of the Marvel Well and reports making a sale of a good bunch of stock to Hon. T. S. Henderson and secured promises of purchase from several others which he feels are the same as a closed deal. Dr. Newton has examined the analysis of the water from the Thorndale well and says he shall prescribe its use to his patients hereafter. He is very much interested in the success of efforts being made to develop the property into a health resort.—Thorndale Champion.

Bill Baskin and Miss Mervia Thompson motored to Georgetown to take Misses Clyde Baskin and Ruth Kemp back to school early Tuesday morning.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS SPLIT ON GOVERNOR

FACTIONS LOOM IN STATE CONTESTS FOR PARTY FAVORS FOR GOVERNOR

For the first time since the loss of Democratic control in Congress in 1920, the national Republican administration has a direct stake in the outcome of a fight between Republican factions in Texas. That the leaders of the dominant party in Washington will watch the Republican primary elections here with unwonted interest was assured Monday in announcement at State executive headquarters that two candidates will be definitely in the race for the Republican stamp for Governor.

Although E. P. Scott of Corpus Christi and H. H. Haines of Houston possess little interest in the national leaders in their coming fight for the Republican nomination, the purely Republican issue behind their contest, which has no connection with any possible fate that may await the winner in the November general election, is expected to receive the closest attention in Washington. For in the decision of Texas Republicans as between Mr. Scott and Mr. Haines, will be the national party have the voice of the Texas membership as to which faction, that headed by R. B. Creager of Brownsville and that headed by Congressman Harry Wurzbach, speaks for Texas.

The large political patronage that from time to time must be dished out in Texas by the party in national power has already caused reverberations in the councils of the national party due to the long feud between congressman Wurzbach and the "regulars" in Texas. Recent signs of this fight have cropped out in Washington and the contest for state nominations in Texas promise to see the warfare fought out well into the summer.

Should Mr. Scott receive the majority indorsement of Texas Republicans, it is a foregone conclusion that henceforth the position of Congressman Wurzbach would be greatly strengthened and the political star of R. B. Creager, in the ascendancy since the election of the late Senator Warren G. Harding, would be viewed as slowly sinking.

That is provided however, that congressman Wurzbach himself is given indorsement in his own congressional district for the scrappy solon is up for re-election in his home territory and opposed by a candidate receiving the indorsement of the "regulars." Should he meet defeat at the hands of Fred E. Knetsch, also from Seguin, in the Fourteenth district, the result would automatically remove any doubt in Washington as to "who's who" in Texas Republicanism.

The full list of candidates as announced at headquarters here Monday reveals further unprecedented congressional district contests, those in the Fourth, where Henry C. Barlow, McKinney, and Dr. Alex Acheson, Denison, are to contest; the fifth, with Clinton S. Bailey and Homer H. Hacker, both of Dallas, and the fifteenth with J. H. Jefferies of Webb and J. A. Simpson of Laredo.

This is the first year that a full congressional ticket with every district represented has been placed in the field, Leonard Withington, secretary of the executive committee, said.

The complete list of filings for places on the Republican primary ballot up to 5 o'clock Monday afternoon follow:

DAVIDSON DECLARES MOODY RACE DECLINES

SAYS PETITION ASKING HIM TO QUIT TELLS OF HIS STRENGTH

Dallas, June 7.—Certain signs of a decline in Dan Moody's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor is seen by Lynch Davidson, candidate for the same position, in requests received by Davidson asking him to withdraw as a means of insuring the defeat of Governor Ferguson.

Davidson declared the request is ridiculous. "Long before Moody was in the race I had Ferguson defeated," Davidson said. "The Fergusons' doom was sealed when Moody entered the list to split the Ferguson opposition. If Ferguson is retained in power one man in Texas (and one only, will be to blame, and 'Dan's the man.'"

Davidson declared that when Moody accepted Ferguson's withdrawal challenge he lost the first opportunity to rid the state of "Fergusonism." He said Moody could have met the wager with a challenge that both withdraw from the governorship race, "and that would have at once ended Fergusonism."

"If he had done this," Davidson said, "it would have cleared Moody of an order of attempting to further his personal ambitions and would have placed Ferguson in such a position, in case he did not accept, that his defeat would have been assured. Instead, Moody made an election bet which he hoped would strengthen his own campaign and let slip the real opportunity to save Texas."

"The opportunity to rid Texas of Fergusonism before the primary is still open. The offices which Ferguson and Moody bet belong to the people, but the candidates are their own. 'Dan's the man' to challenge Ferguson that they both withdraw."

Davidson declared that he is not fearful of Ferguson receiving a majority as long as he is in the race. "The fact that I have received letters from Mike and Will Hogg, Houston oil capitalists who are backing Moody, and from Dudley Woodward, Moody's Travis county manager, asking me to withdraw evidences nothing but the fact that they are promoting political propaganda.

"Dudley Woodward was one of the hundreds of Moody's friends who advised him not to enter the race in the first place. Another was B. K. Gore of Fort Worth, Moody's assistant campaign manager for Tarrant County. Therefore, I do not attach any weight to estimates of my strength when they come from Moody managers."

"The Lampasas petition signed by members of the Moody club asking me to withdraw obviously was inspired by the 'confidential' letter broadcast to Moody's supporters by his woman campaign manager at Austin. Referring to me she said in this letter: 'Send him petitions and letters asking him to withdraw, and wire him. If he is to be in your town circulate a petition beforehand and present it to him, and furnish copies to the press if you deem it advisable.'"

"Every day's developments give me more reason to believe that the question of Fergusonism and Moodyism also will be settled in the first primary, by my winning a clean majority over both of them. It is absurd for Moody supporters to ask me to withdraw when Moody is the one man who gives Ferguson his strength."

Notice!

The City Council and Dr. A. S. Epperson, City Health Officer, in their efforts to promote better sanitation have asked the City Marshal to look after matters pertaining to the public health and among the causes of disease are the open toilets.

The Marshal has secured the services of Frank Castillo to clean these places once each month and for this service a very nominal fee is charged. In some cases property owners have not co-operated as fully as possible and it is deemed necessary that notice be given that these sanitary regulations will be carried out and the city will appreciate co-operation. Anyone desiring information or finding it necessary to have their premises cleaned twice each month will be accommodated by communicating with me or Frank Castillo. Burying refuse and night soil on the premises is prohibited. It will be necessary to give full co-operation to the city and the city health physician, Dr. A. S. Epperson. The man in charge of this cleaning work has the full approval of myself and the council and he should receive your co-operation.

Very respectfully,

MILAM COUNTY BAPTIST NEWS

WHY GO TO CHURCH

(Contributed by a Local Minister from Rockdale)

1. To thank and worship God.
2. To honor and obey Jesus Christ, this do in remembrance of me.
3. To obey apostolic injunction, forsaking not the assembling of yourselves together.
4. To help build up the Church, by our moral support.
5. To show by our example to others our estimate of the Church.
6. To maintain our interest in religion, soon lost by non-attendance.
7. To feed our souls, a man shall not live by bread alone.
8. To receive the best help in right living.
9. To make the church a strong power for good in the community.
10. To receive the blessing of communion with the highest things in the universe, Here is communion with God, with Christ and with the Holy Spirit. I lose all these by staying away.
11. In the Church is the best opportunity to help others.
12. The Church is the bride of Jesus and any treatment extended the Church He counts as extended to Him. No man can rightly love Jesus and neglect His Church.

NOTES FROM THE FIELD

Many of the churches have already arranged for revival meetings.

First church, Cameron begins next Sunday, June 6, a ten day revival, the Pastor, Rev. E. S. Hutcherson doing the preaching and Singer Mark Short of Ft. Worth leading the singing.

We believe they will have a great meeting. We pray the church will meet the conditions and then hold up the Pastor in Gods own way to a throne of Grace and Blessing.

There's a great spirit moving in the very hearts of the Cameron, Rockdale, Milano, Ben Arnold and other churches of the Association. One can not be in their midst and fail to feel the good fellowship of service.

Pastor P'all has around 50 regular in B. Y. P. U. about that many in W. M. U. and Sunday School growing by leaps.

That is all as it should be, and will never fail to be where the members have a mind to pray and the preacher stays with the Book in reproving, rebuking, and exhorting with all long suffering and doctrine." 2 Tim. 4:3.

Davilla, Little River, Thorndale and San Gabriel are yet pastorless. We believe they will call before long.

Little River has invited former Pastor S. R. McLung of Cleburne to assist in their revival. He has accepted if they can get together on the time.

The Missionary had a great service with pastor J. Q. Jones at Button Prairie the 3rd Sunday. Had three conversions and many renewals of consecration.

There are great possibilities at Minerva and country around.

I am asked for a meeting there. The Methodist were kind enough to let us use their meeting house 4th Sunday night. We thank them.

We want here to express our gratitude to circle No. 2 of Cameron W. M. U. for the splendid shower of useful articles brought last week by Mrs. Gus Evans and Mrs. Miller to wife and baby.

We are grateful to learn of the many Baptists over the field who attended the Southern Baptist Convention. We learned that 8 or 10 members attended from Little River Church.
